

REDUCTION OF TAXES MUST TAKE PRECEDENCE OVER ALL OTHER LEGISLATION, COOLIDGE TELLS CONGRESS IN MESSAGE

Of All Services That Can Be Rendered Country This Is Held to Be Paramount—Soldier Bonus Opposed Flatly and Without Qualification—League "Closed Incident"—Against Tariff Tinkering—Prohibition Laws Should Be Upheld.

By LAWRENCE MARVIN
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Tax reduction must have right of way over all other legislation, President Coolidge declared today in his first message to Congress.

"Of all services which the Congress can render to the country, I have no hesitation in declaring this one to be paramount," he said. "The country wants this measure to have the right of way over all others."

He is opposed to a soldier bonus, the President said flatly and without qualification.

Declaring there are no questions the main problem of the country, he said financial stability is vital. Drastic economies, preservation of the budget system, and reduction of taxes must be the main items in this program of financial stabilizing, he said.

He said he had treated more in detail of tax reduction in his message transmitting the budget. He approved of the Mellon tax reduction plan, especially commending tax reduction on earned incomes, and "further abolition of admission, message and nuisance taxes." He said the "amusement and educational value of moving pictures ought not to be taxed." He opposed excess profits taxes, and said local as well as national taxes should come down. Abolition of tax exempt securities by constitutional amendment he strongly urged.

He said the veterans must be given every care; the service in their behalf must be "clean," promised to remedy evils disclosed by the Senate investigation, and recommended that all government hospitals be permitted to treat free all veterans of all wars, and that new hospitals be built for such purpose. He urged careful consideration of veterans' legislation to be proposed by the American Legion. Of the bonus, he disposed in this sentence:

"But I do not favor granting of a bonus."

The message, more eagerly awaited by the country than any presidential utterance in years, was a crisply worded document that covered virtually every problem confronting the administration and the country. It was a series of clear cut, concise, exceedingly definite statements and recommendations. It left no doubt of Mr. Coolidge's exact position on every subject he discussed.

"In sentences which, like his exact statements on tax reduction and the bonus, defied distortion or misinterpretation of his attitude, Mr. Coolidge said that:

"The Senate should approve the Harding World Court.
The League of Nations is a closed incident" so far as the United States is concerned.
The tariff law has produced "abounding prosperity" and should not be tinkered with.
Congress should immediately provide for revision of freight rates.
Farmers should be authorized, to be followed, if necessary, by compulsory consolidation.
The farmers must help themselves out of their troubles, aided to a degree by the government.
Selective immigration with registration of aliens should be adopted.
Muscle Shoals should be sold to somebody who will produce cheap fertilizer.
Every citizen should help uphold the prohibition law.
The Army and Navy should be strengthened.
The negro problem should be dealt with at once by Congress.
Coal prices should be reduced, and the government be given emergency powers to prevent fuel famine and hoarding.
The Monroe Doctrine should be upheld.
Russia cannot be recognized until she repents.
Mr. Coolidge opened his message with an announcement to Congress of the death of President Harding, and paid his predecessor this tribute:

"He has left his mark upon history. He has made justice more certain and peace more secure."
Congress and his administration face the duty, the President said, of developing and supporting the Harding policies.

From his brief word of eulogy, Mr. Coolidge swung directly into his message, with no waste of words.

The President's message will be found on Page 2.

Coolidge Message Fairly Bristles With Plain Talk

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—President Coolidge's message to Congress today bristled with crisp, pithy sentences.

Here are some of them:

"We attend to our own affairs . . . but we recognize thoroughly our obligation to help others."

"Parliament has no place in our foreign relations."

"I do not propose to make merchandise of any American principles."

"We shall persevere in well doing, not by force, but by reason."

"To reduce war taxes is to give every home a better chance."

"Free government has no greater menace than disrespect for authority."

"A people who neglect their national defense are putting in jeopardy their national honor."

"The humanitarian side of government should not be repressed, but cultivated."

"American institutions rest solely on good citizenship."

"Those who do not want to be partisans of the American spirit should not settle in America."

"It is necessary not only to have faith, but to make sacrifices for our faith."

"I am convinced that our present economic and social conditions warrant a limitation of those to be admitted. We should find additional safety in a law requiring the immediate registration of all aliens. Those who do not want to be partisans of the American spirit ought not to settle in America."

"I am convinced that our present economic and social conditions warrant a limitation of those to be admitted. We should find additional safety in a law requiring the immediate registration of all aliens. Those who do not want to be partisans of the American spirit ought not to settle in America."

Snow Delays Court an Hour When Juror's Car Overturns Into Ditch

The sudden descent of winter today caused a delay of an hour in returning of a verdict in criminal court in Uniontown.

O. A. Blade of Perry township was a member of the jury which heard the evidence against Johnny Jones, Uniontown negro charged with stealing $50 and a gold watch. The jury returned a sealed verdict which was to be read at the opening of court today.

But Juror Blade was not there when the time for reading the verdict arrived.

When he arrived it was learned that an automobile accident resulting from the snow storm was responsible for his non-arrival at the specified time. He told Judge J. C. Work that when he attempted to wipe the snow from the windshield he lost control of the car which ran into a ditch. It required an hour to get it out.

The juror described the accident as an "upset." "Well, we don't want too many upsets," the court remarked.

"Neither do I," Blade replied.

The excuse was accepted. The verdict was unsealed. The defendant was found guilty.

Hider Harris, a negro, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of killing Willie Henderson St. Clair at Labella October 18, during a drunken brawl. A jury was summoned and evidence was taken to determine the degree of crime.

Mike Pakanek was acquitted yesterday following his trial for the murder 10 years ago of John Danish at Fayette City.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING
A PLEASURE.

If Christmas buyers but apply themselves to the task for a short time they will find it easier to dispose of it this year than ever before, and they can do it right here at home.

The merchants of the city have never made more complete preparations for the holiday season than they have this year. They have given most careful thought and attention to the selection of their stocks knowing so well what the people of this shopping district prefer in the line of Christmas goods. Unusual pains are being taken to make the display and arrangement of goods so as to make inspection and selection convenient and easy to buyers. A full complement of clerks will be on duty to promptly attend to the wants of customers. Visits to the stores will therefore be a distinct pleasure as every facility necessary will be provided to make buying easy and without vexatious waste of time or long search for the articles desired.

Through the medium of The Courier's advertising pages announcements are being made daily which, in the quiet evening hours in the home,
can be studied and the perplexing task of making selections disposed of
with the utmost ease and satisfaction.
On the following morning an early visit to the stores will enable buyers to make their purchases without loss of time and free of the annoyances incident to a last minute's mad scramble. They can return home without being tired out by an aimless wandering about to find what they wish to buy and they will have the rest of the time intervening before Christmas to get things in readiness to the home for a joyous celebration of the Glorious Day of All the Year.

With such a program easily to be followed by Christmas shoppers there ought to be no excuse for any person in the Connelville district, failing to secure their seasonal reminders for members of their families and friends without unnecessary expenditure of time and effort, and without the annoyance and irritation that invariably accompany a delayed and hap-hazard plan.

Christmas shopping can be made a pleasure if you but avoid yourself at the facilities the home merchants have placed at your disposal.

OUR OBLIGATIONS TO
B. & O. POLICE.

The people of Connelville have abundant reason to feel themselves under obligations to the police officers of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company operating in this vicinity.
Because of their vigilance and activity in rounding up criminals they serve as a very efficient auxiliary to the city force, the inadequacy of which is admitted by all persons having an intelligent conception of the police needs of the municipality and environs.

The round-up of a bunch of escaped convicts, including a murderer, in a car at South Connelville, is the latest and one of many instances when the Baltimore & Ohio force has performed a signal service in behalf of the entire community. Their authority to make arrests not being restricted to a certain territory the Baltimore & Ohio officers perform the very useful and necessary function of keeping the city's outskirts clear of the vicious and criminal element which from time to time drifts in here to ply their trade.

For this service the people of the city ought to be most grateful to Captain Blodsoe and his efficient assistants.

COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE.

The happy and appropriate custom of providing a community Christmas tree seems to have become established in Connelville, thanks to the Civic League which introduced it two years ago.

Plans are now maturing for a tree
this year together with a "community sing" as a part of the program for a general celebration of Christmas. In carrying out the program the assistance of a number of persons will be required. If you are one to be asked to take part you ought not to hesitate and still less refuse to give your consent. Only by cooperation can the affair be made the kind of a success the projectors hope for.

PRESIDENTIAL ASPIRANTS

La FOLLETTE.

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Of all the various brands, shades and markings of progressivism, that of Robert M.
La Follette of Wisconsin is the most distinctive and undiluted by any tinge of blandings from other political schemes. In fact, so solid and brilliant is the color of La Follette's progressivism that many people call him a "Red."

While the political managers profess to regard La Follette with contempt as a factor in the 1924 Republican Presidential scramble or in the subsequent Presidential election, even the most superficial examination of the situation shows convincingly that here is the one man who more than any other can influence the trend of American politics in the next few years. Whether he does it or not depends almost entirely upon La Follette.

When he organized the "progressive group" in Congress, and a corresponding group to work in the country at large in connection with the Congressional unit, La Follette and all his side disclaimed with emphasis any purpose of starting a third party movement or of engaging in politics.
Their purpose, they declared, were limited to economics and legislation.

But the Congressional elections of 1922 gave that progressive group the balance of power in the 63rd Congress and at once made it a political nucleus which from that time on it was evident would have to be considered in 1924.

La Follette, as the titular head of the progressive organization, its chief strategist and legislative director, therefore became a Presidential possibility. When he addressed the 1922 convention of the American Federation of Labor in Cincinnati, a Presidential boom for him was launched, and whether he is an avowed candidate or not, a considerable block of delegates to the next Republican national convention will be for La Follette as first choice.

How far La Follette goes in the Presidential race depends, observers believe, on the quality of leadership he displays this winter in making effective the control of Congress which wise management will give him. This will not be an easy task, for both Republicans and Democrats of the old traditional party type are opposed to men like La Follette. Dislike of things as they always have been object to evolution—they always call it revolution.

La Follette has been and will continue to be denounced as an apostle of radicalism, he has even been called an "agent of Lenin and Trotsky and the communistic international."

No Quarter Fought.

He is one of the 20-quarter type of fighters. He loses more battles than he wins because he will not negotiate when negotiation means partial surrender on things he has been fighting for. La Follette usually is beaten in Congress because in the recent past he has pretty largely waged a lone fight with little or no assistance from other professed progressives. He just keeps on fighting.

He is one of the most picturesque figures in public life. Like so many of the world's fighting men, he has a short, compact figure, built for hard campaigning. His bushy pompadour and the square-jawed, furrowed face which it surmounts have become familiar to the country over.

Personally La Follette is one of the most lovable men in Congress. He has hosts of personal friends, and some very bitter personal enemies,
for his tongue is acid sharp and no respecter of person. If La Follette finds out a man has done him a wrong or has played an underhanded game.

He is distinguished by an avidity for work which would wear out an ordinarily constituted man in short order.
A speech by La Follette usually is spread over several days. For when he begins talking about a subject he has various mountains of data on it and it takes it as thoroughly as he insists any subject is worth talking about ought to be gone into.

The farmers of his northwest country and men of labor everywhere are strong for La Follette.

WEEK OF PRAYER AT MT. PLEASANT BEGINS DEC. 31

Date is Week Ahead of Time
Fixed by Federal Church Council.

PLAN RELIGIOUS SURVEY

Special to The Courier
MOUNT PLEASANT, Dec. 6.—At the monthly meeting of the Ministerial Association, Wednesday, committees were appointed to arrange for the observance of the week of prayer and to make a survey of the week-day religious education movement with a view to its adoption in Mount Pleasant. A committee was also appointed to investigate providing picture postcards of the various churches of town in the five and ten cent stores. It was decided to hold the week of prayer beginning December 31, one week earlier than the time appointed by the Federal Council of Churches.

Rev. Smith, formerly pastor of the Baptist Church, was a visitor at the meeting. He is soon to leave for Idaho to assume the pastorate of a Baptist church in a community where the only other religious organizations are four Mormon churches.

Art Exhibit, Dec. 12.
The Elson Art Exhibit of 200 pictures will be shown in the Third Ward School on December 12, from 8.30 until 7.30 o'clock. The High School Orchestra will furnish music during the evening.

Parent-Teacher Meeting.
A parent-teacher meeting will be held in the high school building on Friday evening, December 7, with the following program: Presentation of the constitution, calisthenic drill by First Ward school, music by the Third Ward school, talk on "Activities in the School" by C. R. Sullivan, talks by Mrs. Howard Stoger and S. P. Stevens.

K. of P. to Initiate.
The Knights of Pythias, once one of the largest and most active organizations in Mount Pleasant, but which had not done anything important for some time, has resumed activities. Next Tuesday evening will be nomination of officers and the initiation of a large class in Odd Fellows Hall.

Thank-Offering Meeting.
A thank-offering meeting was held Wednesday night at the United Presbyterian Church, with Miss Milligan of Pittsburg the speaker. The offering amounted to $349.

Institute Recital.
The pupils of the junior class of the institute will give a recital Friday evening, beginning at 7.15, to which the public is cordially invited.

Car Loadings Are Still Above Million a Week

Car loadings for the week ended November 10 totaled 1,036,067 according to reports filed with the American Railway Association.

This was the twenty-first week this year in which more than 1,000,000 cars have been loaded with revenue freight. Loadings in the week of November 10 were only 231 cars greater than in the preceding week, but they were an increase of 11,881 over the corresponding week last year and of 20,290 over the corresponding week in 1921.

Coal loading amounted to 130,282 cars, a gain of 10,568 cars over the week before and 5,672 cars above the same week last year. This also was an increase of 36,432 cars over the same week two years ago.

Coke loading for the week totaled 11,334 cars or only 13 less than the preceding week. While this was a decrease of 235 cars over last year, it was an increase of 4,957 cars above two years ago.

17,000,000 Automobiles in World.
By January 1, the world will have in operation 17,000,000 automobiles, passenger cars and trucks, according to an estimate by the automotive division of the Commerce Department. Of that total, he says, 14,000,000 will be running in the United States, or about one to every eight persons whereas in the rest of the world the proportion will be about one to 112 persons.

MOTHER!

Clean Child's Bowels with
"California Fig Syrup"

Hurry Mother! Even constipated, bilious, feverish, or sick, colic babies and children love to take genuine "California Fig Syrup." No other laxative regulates the tender little bowels so nicely. It sweetens the stomach and starts the liver and bowels without gripping. "Genuine" no medicine or medicine "drug." Say "California" to your druggist and read counterfeits. Insist upon genuine "California Fig Syrup" which explains directions—Advertisement.

Specify 'White Lily' and Receive Perfect Meats

"WHITE LILY" Pork products are the very best to be had in the Pittsburgh district.

The Hams, Bacon and Sausage are taken only from young porkers, less than a year old—and the processes used develop a flavor not to be found in ordinary meats.

And every "White Lily" product is certified for wholesomeness and goodness before it leaves the Dunlevy spotless plant.

Try one "White Lily" product and you will become a regular user of all the others.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

Best Books for Boys.

One Mother Says

If you want to make it a book Christmas and don't know just what to give that boy, here is a list of good books which were selected by seventy boys in a representative boys' school as their favorites. The top listers were: The Black Arrow, Bob, Son of Battle, Captain Corcoran, The Jungle Books, Otto of the Silver Hand and Treasure Island. Each of these was named by more than half the boys. Others which at least ten boys chose are: Adventures of Tom Sawyer, The Deerslayer, Ivanhoe, Kidnapped, Kim, King Arthur and His Knights, Lorna Doone, The Merry Adventures of Robin Hood, Oliver Twist, On the Warpath, Robinson Crusoe, The Three Musketeers, Tom Brown's School Days, Westward Ho, and Wild Animals I Have Known.

Youth Charged With Forgery Goes to Jail

Wayne S. Buer, who was given a hearing yesterday before Alderman Fred Munk on a charge of forgery, following his arrest here for passing a number of bad checks, was held for court. He was taken to Uniontown and placed in the county jail. The Parker-Carson Shoe Company was prosecutor in the case, having been the recipient of one of the fraudulent checks. Half a dozen others were passed on various firms in the city. The young man is also wanted on a similar charge at Morgantown, W. Va., his home town.

Brownsville Says Game With Tornado Team Is Now "Off"

River Towners Unable to Dodge Issue Any Longer, Admit They Will Not Play.

LONG BREAKS HIS WORD

Now the much-sought-after game with the Brownsville Independents is really off.

At a "council of war" held by that team last night it was determined no further attention would be paid to the challenges of the Connelville Tornadoes. The river town organization, in refusing to play under the final terms offered by the Tornadoes has violated its word of honor, given last season when the Cokers played at that place promising to come to Connelville this year.

The Connelville Tornadoes are the champions of Fayette county—undisputedly so. In vain has the management tried to bring Brownsville into line but Billy Long, manager of that team, consistently slipped through a loop-hole. Then the Tornadoes plugged these holes by offering to meet the Independents under almost any terms. Long still stalled along and now final rejection has been determined upon by him and his cohorts.

Brownsville is held in contempt and derision by the multitude of county fans who had been counting on the game all season. Billy Long's word in sport channels has been violated and his prestige as a manager is crumbling. Resentment, for a time held against the Tornadoes because they stuck out for a 50-50 split of gate receipts instead of agreeing to Long's demand for a guarantee of $1250, something the Cokers did not have last season, as a matter of "principle," has now turned fully against the river town aggregation. Long's bluff has been called and it is plain to be seen which team has been afraid to engage in the contest.

Regardless of the fact that no game will be played the championship is undisputedly the Tornadoes. The locals have lost just one game this season—that to the Hope-Harvey combination. The Brownsville outfit has lost twice, and one of the defeats was by a team which lost to Connelville—the Christy Park Independents.

Following last night's meeting

Basketball Squad At High School Is On the Increase

Interest in basketball at the High School is on the increase. Sixty-four candidates reported to Coaches Settle and Spangler at the gymnasium yesterday afternoon. The wrestling out process will begin soon.

Mr. Spangler, who is assisting Coach Settle in handling the boys is expected to prove a valuable aid. He has three years experience as a varsity player on the Dickinson College quintet behind him and knows the game.

Another Football Game Is Scheduled Saturday Afternoon

More football will be played at Fayette Field Saturday afternoon. The Junior Tornadoes have scheduled the strong Mount Pleasant Superiors and the preliminary clash will be between the South Side Preps and the Scottsdales Scholastics.

The preliminary will get under way at 1:45 o'clock and the main attraction at 2 o'clock.

Sporting Notes.
The Lion Tamers, who disbanded their organization some time ago, will organize a basketball team for the coming season. It will include some former High School players, namely "Bucky" Lowmyer, "Mickey" McCormick, Kenneth Cunningham and Harold Hill. Fred Rush is manager.

Again the West Side Cyclones are

"refused a game," this time by the Hill Top aggregation. First the South Side "Preps," and now the Hill Tops have "turned the Cyclones down cold." For the past month the Cyclones have not been able to arrange a game with any one in their class according to Manager Frank Morrell. On the Cyclone team are Sullivan Fleta, left end, John Rock, left tackle, Philip Fiesta, left guard, Harold Cochran, center, John Findlay, right guard, Bob Johnson, right tackle, Joe Morrell and Earl Rich, right end, "Doc" Rull and Frank Rich, quarterbacks, James Rordan, left half, Philip Rull, right half, Joseph Rull, fullback.

GEORGE GIBSON HAS RETIRED FROM GAME

Veteran Big League Catcher Now Canadian Contractor.

George Gibson, veteran catcher and former manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, has definitely retired from the game.

Gibson, who is a resident of London, Ont., was made assistant to Donie Bush, manager of the Washington American league club, last season but after watching the Senators play for a couple of months he decided he had had enough and he returned home.

Since then Gibson has been building houses. He is an expert contractor and a designer of artistic dwelling places. "I said he can take a pencil and paper and in a few minutes sketch out as nifty a plan as any noted architect, and he has had no trouble in disposing of the buildings he has just recently erected. Gibson has turned over a few thousand dollars in the house building game, and it is expected that when next spring rolls around he will be too busy planning and building to even think of baseball. Gibson is also

George Gibson, fond of farming, and he has a hundred or more acres located a few miles out of London where he spends part of his time.

In the winter, George spends a lot of time at the curling rink. He is a member of the London Thistle Curling club and he takes a keen interest in the "roarin' game." He and "Bob" Smalls, veteran National league umpire, who lives in St. Thomas, have frequently been the opposing skips in inter-city matches.

Triple Plays Are Jinx to Tris Speaker's Team

When it comes to figuring in triple plays the Cleveland club of the American league is entitled to the original brown derby. Triple plays and the Cleveland club are synonymous.

Last season five triple plays were made in the American league, four of these were pulled at the expense of the Cleveland club. Since Cleveland was nosed out of second place by a mere half game some blame can be laid to the Indians habit of hitting into triple plays.

The unsanctified triple plays were made in the majors last season. Both of these plays were made by Boston clubs, the Red Sox putting one over on the Indians, while the Braves turned the trick against Philadelphia.

In all nine triple plays were made in the majors, five in the American and four in the National.

In pulling unsanctified triple plays, George Burns of the Red Sox and Ernest Padgett of the Braves won undying fame. The baseball records show that on only three other occasions has a player been able to retire the side unsanctified.

What Makes a Beauty Soap?

Do you believe any soap can put something into your skin to make it beautiful? Beauty comes from inside the skin. The real beauty soap is soap that cleanses safely because it is PURE and cleanses thoroughly because it is LATHERY. The richer and thicker the lather, the more useful will be the soap in dissolving out the grime and pore-dirt to secure beauty-giving cleanliness.

Just try Sweetheart soap in cold or hot water, hard or soft. Perhaps you haven't realized that a pure soap could be so lathery—so quickly cleansing and soothing.

Nothing but pure soap in Sweetheart—no coloring matter, heavy perfume nor fancy wrapping. It saves you the expense that runs the price of soap up, for all the time and cost little to make and all should retail at low price, if sold without bias.

Search for the highest quality, made on honor. Ours is fit to be heard. Delicately scented. Non-foaming because all air is squeezed out.

Just try Sweetheart from your grocer or the better drugstore.

At the Theatres

The Paramount

"THE CRITICAL AGE"—From the novel "Gleanings of Europe" is the feature picture today at this theatre. Two dogs and a bear play very important roles in this story, which is based on Canadian life in the great outdoors. There have been many expressions of approval regarding animals who have risked their lives to save their masters; there have been other complimentary phrases toward the animal that has shown almost human intelligence. In this production the intelligence of animals has a chance to show itself. A small, woolly French poodle drifts through the rapids on the bottom of an up-turned canoe. While every precaution for the animal's safety had been made by the producers, still it shows, by the action of the dog, his complete understanding of what is required of him. A large Belgian police dog swims the rapids in a daring rescue of the girl, one of the biggest thrills in the production.

Not only do dogs play important roles, but a large grizzly bear is also used to inject comedy and thrills into the production. In this respect the picture is a very thrilling fight with an actor. Those who have a more spark of interest in animals will find this Ralph Connor story decidedly interesting.

Friday and Saturday, Richard Talmadge will be seen in "The Speed King."

The Soisson

"WHERE THE NORTH BEGINS"—A tense drama, featuring Rin-Tin-Tin, the famous police dog, is on view today at this theatre and will also be shown on Friday and Saturday.

The picture is reported to be replete with mystery, glamour and adventure, and has won praise of the first worker who ever already shown. Rin-Tin-Tin is credited with almost uncanny intuition, acting like a true veteran of screen.

It is a Warner Brothers classic of the screen, directed by Chester M. Franklin. The story deals with Gabriel Dupre, a young French-Canadian trapper, who returns from a far north trip and finds his Hudson Bay trading post in a state of confusion over the disappearance of five men, missing after setting out singly with loads of fur. Gabriel undertakes to make the trip leaving Felice McTavish, his sweetheart, behind, to the tender mercies of Shad-Galloway, the tyrannical factor.

Gabriel himself is shot down, wounded and left for dead by a band of outlaws. A wolf attacks him in his weakened condition, but is withheld in time by some inner force—the spirit of devotion of the canine forbears, for he turns out to be a dog who had joined with a wolf-pack. The two become friends, and together succeed in running down the gang of crooks in Galloway's employ. The wolf-dog bears down on Galloway just when Felice is helpless and the camp deserted.

The Orpheum

"HELD TO ANSWER"—A story said to have broken records when sold in book form, opened today at this theatre for a three day attraction.

The plot concerns a young actor who gives up the stage to become a minister of the Gospel. He goes to a small city and is followed by one of his former actress friends. The minister falls in love with the daughter of one of his parishioners and, through jealousy, the actress determines to have the clergyman ousted from his church.

This she almost accomplishes by inducing the girl's brother to accuse the minister being accused of the crime. How he conducts his own defense and the outcome of the trial makes for thrilling drama and it has all been decidedly well done in "Held to Answer."

House Peters is seen to great advantage in the role of the minister. Grace Carlyle does the best work of her career as the actress and James Morrison has been well cast as the erring brother. Evelyn Brent, who plays the role of the heroine, is not only good to look at but demonstrates unusual ability. Other characters are well taken care of by "Bull" Montana, John Sampson and Lydia Knott.

We think you'll like "Held to Answer" because it holds the interest from beginning to end and because it is a story of folks that we meet in everyday life.

"I guess that's true of most of us," he said, dully, "but I didn't mean to be nearly that."

Her response to his humility was another: righting, change of mood. He had darted out across the table and rested upon his "I'm sorry, Joe," she said. "I wish we could be a little happy."

Down in the hurried recesses of his spirit there had been a shattering burst of laughter at himself for a moment, unbelievable fool. It was that burning touch of Violet's hand that seemed somehow to have brought down the whole house of cards. It had happened before the luncheon had come back to make a suggestion that they come and live here a few days, or he would have been surprised by the momentary gleam in Violet's face with which she responded to it. He had looked for it in her face, knowing it would be there. What a fool he had been, with his chivalry and his previous ideas! Well, they understood each other, now!

They finished their lunch in silence, after their host had withdrawn once more, and then, still without a word, returned to the veranda. When she had seated herself upon the day-sport he sat beside her, but not very close, and with his hands clasped between his knees. She asked him what time it was, and he told her quarter to three.

"Just a little more than an hour left," she commented, fortantly. "Will that be long enough, do you suppose, for you to forgive me in? I don't think I can bear it if you don't."

"There's nothing to forgive," he said. "You're perfectly right about it—about the criticism of my plan, I mean. I've been a fool. And I've times of being what you call a beast."

"I don't call you that! Except when I'm so frightened I don't know what I'm saying. Of myself, Joe, more than of you. I'm the worst coward in the world; that's the truth about me. But I wish I didn't make you so unhappy."

"You don't need to worry about that," he said. "You've been a lot kinder to me than I deserve."

"But I'm unhappy, too," she sobbed. "Oh, I wish I knew what to do!"

He pulled her up then in his arms and kissed her, and she, with a deep-sighing sigh, returned the kiss. "We've got an hour," he said, and for a long while after that they spoke of nothing more to the purpose than the falling gulls and the sheets of silver sea.

She asked him, though, at the end of a prolonged silence, what he was thinking about.

"I've been trying not to think about it," he confessed. "But I can't, and I can't get it out of my head."

She neither spoke nor stirred until he went on.

"All you'll have to do tomorrow would be to keep your Mrs. Wentworth from actually putting you on the train. You come down to the same station, but you take our little train instead. And I'm on it. And we come out here and have our little holiday. Two days out of a lifetime—Oh, I know it's impossible. But you asked what I was thinking about, and that was it."

"Do you want me to do it, Joe?"

The simplicity of the question, and the intensity of the emotion that propelled it, literally, for an instant, stopped the beat of his heart. His eyes filled with tears, but through the blur he could see him, white with a sense of great adventure, gazing up at him.

"I don't know," he said. "I don't know whether I want you to or not."

Her arms tightened about him and she uttered a shaky laugh. "I love you for saying that. I'll come, Joe. I'll give you those two days—We've got to be starting back now. You go find the man and tell him. He'd better not see me like this."

Joe made his arrangements, and they caught the train and contrived, very tidily, how her meeting with Alice Wentworth at six should be made plausible.

Violet managed her meeting with Alice Wentworth with entire success. But Alice made her jump, though, by saying—holding her off in both hands for a good look. "You've been deceiving John, Violet. I've never seen you looking prettier, or any younger here, since I was your bridesmaid. Have your redcap give your bag to Wrenn; and give him your trunk-checks, too."

By the time they arrived at the big brown house on Riverside drive Violet was near enough to her natural self. There was nothing the matter with her, except she couldn't sleep.

"I guess you had better telephone John, if you feel equal to it," Alice told her, when she had gone up to Violet's room. "He's been trying to get you all day."

There was a long silence. Finally Violet said, "I see what happened. John thought I was coming on the Broadway. I was, but I missed it. And he always laughs at me for missing trains, so I didn't call him up and tell him—I suppose I ought to telephone him now."

"My dear," said Alice, "you can't talk across the room such a long time as that. You're John, that you're not here. All right—or telephone. If you'd rather."

"No, John is better," Violet murmured.

How to Help Postal Force During Christmas Rush

The Postoffice will make every effort to handle the Christmas mail without congestion and delay, but owing to the enormous volume this can be done only with the cooperation of the public. Compliance with the following suggestions will greatly aid the Postoffice and insure the prompt handling of your mail.

Wrapping and Packing

All parcels must be securely wrapped or packed in order to reach their destination in good condition. In wrapping ordinary parcels strong paper and heavy twine should be used.

Umbrellas, canes, golf sticks should be reinforced their full length by strong strips of wood tightly wrapped and tied to withstand transportation.

Hats—Pack in strong corrugated or fibre boxes. Ordinary pasteboard hat boxes must be crated. Ladies' hats and stiff hats easily damaged should be marked "Fragile."

Shoes—Pack in strong boxes, preferably corrugated cardboard. Wrap with strong paper securely tied with heavy twine.

Cut Flowers—Place in strong suitable boxes of wood, tin, or heavy corrugated cardboard, wrap contents in tissue paper to preserve moisture.

Candies—Enclose in strong outside boxes or containers.

Drawings, paintings, unmounted maps, etc.—Pack or wrap in strong material to avoid damage. When not flat roll around a strong wooden core, then wrap and tie carefully or place in strong pasteboard tube.

Sharp-pointed or sharp-edged instruments or tools must have the points and edges fully guarded to prevent injury to clerks in handling or damage to other mail. Crates suitably or thoroughly wrap so that they can not cut through the wrapping.

Fragile Articles

Articles easily broken or crushed must be crated or securely wrapped. Use liberal quantities of excelsior, or like material, in, around and between the articles and the outside container. Glassware, fragile toys, crockery must be packed so as to prevent the escape of particles or pieces if broken in transit.

Cigars—Ordinary boxes of cigars wrapped in paper only will not be accepted. Pack in a manner to prevent damage by shock or jar. Wrap in corrugated pasteboard or similar material.

All articles easily broken or damaged must be plainly marked "Fragile."

Perishable Matter

Articles likely to spoil within the time reasonably required for transportation and delivery will not be accepted for mailing. Wrap or pack carefully, according to contents, and plainly mark all such parcels "Perishable." Use special-delivery stamps to expedite delivery.

No More Stains on Children's Teeth!

New Harmless Liquid Quickly Dissolves Every Stain—Whitens Teeth.

Nothing spoils a child's whole appearance quicker than stained, dull or yellowish teeth. But now every child can have teeth that are perfectly clean and shining white and keep them that way always. For a new and absolutely safe liquid has been perfected which instantly dissolves all tooth stains, giving away the dull teeth a marvelous sparkle and whiteness.

This new liquid, called Bleo-dent, contains certain harmless ingredients which actually corrode or loosen the staining substances, so that they may be instantly removed by an ordinary tooth brush. Even the most unyielding stains usually disappear with the first application of Bleo-dent. Highly endorsed by dentists. Cannot possibly hurt enamel and will not act on any except surface stains. Fine for removing tobacco stains, etc., from adult teeth. Get Bleo-dent today on money back guarantee. Cost just a few cents at good drug and department stores everywhere, such as Connelville Drug Co., Lehigh Valley Drug Co., C. H. Hays, H. B. Hays, etc.
